REPORT.

SESSION 1860-61.

STUDENTS.

The number of Pupils in the College during the Session 1860–61 was 924: viz. 559 Students, including 113 attending Evening Classes of Animal Physiology, Zoology, and Geology, and 365 Boys in the Junior School. There were besides 113 Ladies attending a Course of Animal Physiology given by Mr. John Marshall, F.R.S., to Ladies exclusively. The Students of the Faculty of Medicine were 198, of whom 57 were new Students: the Students of the Faculty of Arts and Laws were 361, including 28 attending the Patriot Fund Classes for Schoolmasters, and 113 the Evening Courses of Animal Physiology, Zoology, and Geology; the new Students in the general Classes were 109. The Students of Analytical Chemistry in the Birkbeck Laboratory were 15. The highest number of boys in the Junior School in any one Term was 318. The Receipt from Students and Pupils was £13,647 10*s.* 8*d.* The sum of £4781 14*s.* was received from Students of the Medical Faculty: viz. for attendance on Classes, £3515 3*s.*; on Hospital Practice, £1266 11*s.* The Receipt on account of the Faculty of Arts and Laws was £3381 16*s.* 8*d.*; that of the Junior School, £5484. The share of Professors and Masters, exclusive of the annual augmentations to the Professors of Natural Philosophy, and Comparative Anatomy, and of the interest of the Patriot Fund paid to Professors for Schoolmasters' Classes, was £9288 14*s.* The College portion amounted to £3092 5*s.* 8*d.* The sum of £1266 11*s.*, received for Clinical Instruction at the Hospital, was paid to the Hospital Committee towards the support of the Charity.

The entries for the current Session up to this period are—Medical Students, 172, of whom 53 are new Students; new entries to the Hospital, 49; Students of the Faculty of Arts and Laws, 199 (of whom new Students 108), making, together with 28 attending the Schoolmasters' Classes, 227. The number of Boys in the Junior School in this Term is 316. At the corresponding period of last year the number was 317.

The Classes of the Faculty of Arts in which there is an increase of Students this Session are English, French (from 20 to 43), German, Mathematics (from 87 to 96), Architecture, and Political Economy.

COLLEGE PRIZES.

The Andrews Scholarship of £85, of October 1861, for proficiency in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, was awarded to Mr. Horatio Nelson Grimley. The Examiners reported that Mr. Benjamin Kisch had acquitted himself so creditably in the Examination that if he had been the first they would have considered him fully qualified by his proficiency to receive the Scholarship. The Council awarded a Second or Extraordinary Andrews Scholarship of £60 to Mr. Kisch. The Andrews Scholarship in Classics was not awarded.

The Atkinson Morley Surgical Scholarship of £45 per annum, tenable for three years, was awarded to Mr. Henry Charlton Bastian, of Falmouth.

The Joseph Hume Scholarship in Jurisprudence, of £20 a year for three years, was obtained by Mr. Job Bradford, of London. A Certificate of Proficiency was granted to Mr. Robert Edmund Graves, of London.

The Longridge Prize of £40, of the Session 1861, for general proficiency in Medicine and Surgery, was awarded to Mr. Henry Charlton Bastian.

The Filliter Exhibition in Pathological Anatomy, £30, was conferred on Mr. John Talfourd Jones, of Brecon.

The Liston Clinical Gold Medal, for Reports and Observations on Surgical Cases in the Hospital, was awarded to Mr. Richard Dawson, of Brighton.

The Prize offered by the Council for the best English Essay on an Historical, Biographical, or Speculative Subject, was awarded to Mr. Alfred Roscoe*, of London. The subject proposed by the Senate was "The History of English Blank Verse." Professor Masson was the Examiner. A similar Prize has been offered for the current Session; the subject, "The Expediency or Inexpediency of Encouraging the Cultivation of the vernacular Celtic Languages still existing in Great Britain and Ireland." The Reading-Room Society's Prize of £5, for the best Latin Prose Essay, was awarded to Mr. Charles Trice Martin, of London. The subject proposed by the Senate was "Roman Clientship in the later as well as in the earlier times." Professor Newman was the Examiner. A similar Prize has been offered for the current Session; the subject "The successive incipient Efforts at the Invasion of Persia by the Greeks before Alexander the Great."

The Jews' Commemoration Scholarship of £15 a year, tenable for two years, was awarded to Mr. Augustus S. Wilkins, of Brixton. Of the Students of the Faculty of Arts of not more than one year's standing in the College, Mr. Wilkins was reported by the Faculty to be most distinguished for general proficiency and good conduct.

JUNIOR SCHOOL.

The Council have been favoured by their Committee on the Junior School with a Report of the result of their consideration of the various Returns of the Masters and Assistant Masters respecting the state of the School and its several Classes during the last Session, and of the discussion of the Committee in conference with the Head Master respecting the general distribution and management of the Classes, and various other matters of interest. The Committee stated that the evidence which the Reports afforded as to the working and condition of the School was satisfactory; that as to discipline the testimony borne by all the Masters was complete and unanimous; that the conduct of the Pupils had been uniformly good, with a small number of exceptions such as are unavoidable in a total number of more than 300; that the attention of the Pupils and the progress made in learning was also satistorily attested on the whole, and appeared as good as it had been in former years.

This satisfactory view of the condition of the Junior School receives confirmation from the credit with which the Students who join the College from the School acquit themselves in the Class Examinations, and the distinctions which they obtain. They have been gradually on the increase for several past years.

The former Pupils of the School who distinguished themselves in the College Examinations, and obtained Prizes and Certificates of Honour, were:—Mr. Henry Charles Watson, the Prize, equal with

* Since deceased.

George Campbell De Morgan, in the Senior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, and the second Certificate in the Higher Senior Class of Mathematics; Mr. George Campbell De Morgan, the Prize in the Senior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, and the Prize in the Higher Senior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Edward Henry Busk, the Prize in the Junior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, the sixth Certificate in the Senior Class of Latin, the second Certificate in the Lower Senior Class of Mathematics, and the third Certificate in the Class of Ancient History; Mr. George Knox, the second Prize in the Junior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, the second Certificate in the Class of Mineralogy and Palæontology, and the second Certificate in the Class of Zoology; Mr. Julius Lawrence Levy, the first Prize in the Experimental Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Mr. Joseph Estlin Carpenter, the first Prize in the Junior Class of Latin, the Prize in the Junior Class of Greek, and the first Prize in the Higher Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Lindsey Middleton Aspland, the second Prize in the Junior Class of Latin, the sixth Certificate in the Junior Class of English, the Prize in the Lower Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Alfred Roscoe, besides the English Essay Prize, before referred to, the first Prize in the Extra Class of Greek, the Prize in the Class of Comparative Grammar; Mr. Alfred Cotterell Tupp, the second Prize (given by the Professor) in the Extra Class of Greek, the second Certificate in the Senior Class of Italian; Mr. Henry Godefroi, the first Prize in the Senior Class of German, the seventh Certificate in the Junior Class of Latin, and the sixth Certificate in the Junior Class of Greek; Mr. George S. Joseph, the Prize in the Lower Senior Class of Mathematics, the fourth Certificate in the Senior Class of Latin, and the third Certificate in the Senior Class of Greek; Mr. Robert Russell Hyatt, the second Prize in the Class of Geology, and the Prize in the Class of Civil Engineering; Mr. Griffith Davies, the Prize in the Class of Mineralogy and Palæontology; Mr. Alexander Bruce, of London, the Silver Medal in the Class of Zoology; Mr. Charles Trice Martin, the Latin Prose Essay Prize, given by the Reading-Room Society before referred to. Honours were awarded to other former pupils of the School, as follows:—to Mr. Philip Magnus, the second Certificate in the Senior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, and the third Certificate in the Higher Senior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Naorojee Cowasjee Pohcha, the fourth Certificate in the Junior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, the seventh Certificate in the Senior Class of Latin, the seventh Certificate in the Senior Class of English, the third Certificate in the Senior Class of French, and the third Certificate in the Class of Geology; Mr. John H. Kitson, of Leeds, the fifth Certificate in the Junior Mathematical Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, the fifth Certificate in the Senior Class of Greek, and the seventh Certificate in the Higher Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Edward Wagg, the seventh Certificate in the Experimental Class of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, and the sixth Certificate in the Higher Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Nathaniel Nathan, the sixth Certificate in the Senior Class of Latin, and the second Certificate in the Senior Class of English; Mr. John Sterling Ainsworth, the third Certificate in the Junior Class of Latin, and the second Certificate in the Junior Class of Greek, and the fifth Certificate in the Higher Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. David Ainsworth, the third Certificate (equal with Mr. John S. Ainsworth) in the Junior Class of Latin, the seventh Certificate in Junior Greek, and the sixth Certificate in the Higher Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. John Kelsall, the fifth Certificate in the Junior Class of Latin, the fourth Certificate in the Junior Class of English, and the fourth Certificate in the Class of Geology; Mr. Benjamin Kisch and Mr. Campbell Orme (equal), the third Certificate in the Extra Class of Greek; Mr. George Schwabe, the third Certificate in the Higher Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Thomas Guy Paget, the second Certificate in the Lower Junior Class of Mathematics; Mr. Alfred H. Garrod, the third Certificate in the Class of Geology; Mr. Frederic H. Hyam, the second Certificate in the Class of Civil Engineering; Mr. Henry Martin F. Lumley, the Certificate in the Class of Political Economy, and the second Certificate in the Class of Jurisprudence.

DEGREES.

The Degrees of the University of London taken by the Students of the College in the year 1861, were as follows:—M.D. 3, of a total of 16 from 8 Medical Schools; A.M. 3, of a total of 6 from 3 Colleges; LL.D. 1, of a total of 2 from 2 Colleges; LL.B. 1, of a total of 3 from 3 Colleges; M.B. 6, of a total of 20 from 7 Medical Schools; A.B. 17 (in the first division 4 of 12 from 8 schools), of a total of 55, of whom 10 proceeded from Private Tuition, the remainder (45) from 15 Institutions; B.Sc. 1, of a total of 5, of whom 1 proceeded from private tuition, and the remainder from 4 Colleges:—in all 32 Degrees taken by Students of this College, of a total of 107 taken by Students from 26 Institutions. Two hundred and sixty-five passed the Matriculation Examination (77 in January and 188 in July); of these 49 proceeded from private tuition; of the remaining 216 from 109 Schools, 35, including 12 from the Junior School, were from University College; of this number of 35, 10 from the College and 4 from the Junior School were in the First Division, and 7 from the College, and 5 from the Junior School in the Second Division; the number of Divisions is now three.

The Honours obtained by Students of this College at the University Examinations were as follows:—At the Examination for the Degree of LL.D., the Gold Medal was awarded to Mr. Andrew Thomson, of London. At the Examination for the Degree of A.M.:—Mr. Julian Goldsmid, of London, was placed first for his Examination in Classics; the Rev. William Henry Griffith took the second place. Mr. Henry Charlton Bastian was placed second in the Examination in Logic and Moral Philosophy, Political Philosophy, History of Philosophy and Political Economy. At the Examination for the Degree of B.M.:—the University Scholarship in Medicine was equally divided between Mr. Samuel Jones Gee, of London, and a Student from another School: to each was awarded a Gold Medal. At the Examination for the Degree of A.B.:—Mr. Benjamin Kisch, of London, was placed second at the Examination in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy; Mr. John Watton Teevan, of London, obtained the University Scholarship for his Examination in Classics. At the Examination for the Degree of B.Sc.:—Mr. John Comyns Leach, of Crediton, obtained the University Scholarship of £50 a year for three years for his Examination in Geology and Palæontology. Of Undergraduates at the first Examination for the Degree of M.B.:—Mr. Edward Lloyd H. Fox, of Broughton, Hants, obtained the second place and the Gold Medal for his Examination in Materia Medica and Pharmacy, and in Chemistry in relation to Physiology, Pharmacy, and Toxicology. At the first Examination for the Degree of B.Sc.:—Mr. William Hackney, of London, obtained the Exhibition of £40 for two years for his Examination in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; Mr. Hackney also obtained the Exhibition of a like amount for his Examination in Biology. At the First Examination for the Degree of A.B. :—Mr. George Campbell De Morgan, of London, obtained the second place; Mr. Philip Magnus, of London, and Mr. Henry Charles Watson, of London, the third place (equal) for their Examination in Mathematics and Mechanical Philosophy; Mr. Watson also obtained the Book Prize of the value of £10 for his Examination in French, and the Book Prize of the same value for his Examination in German; Mr. Ernest Charles Benecke, of Camberwell, and Mr. James Edwin Odgers, of Bath, obtained the first place, equal with a Student of another College, for their Examination in Latin, and Mr. Augustus Samuel Wilkins, of Brixton, the second place at the same Examination; Mr. Joseph Smith Thornton, of Huddersfield, obtained the second place, equal with a Student of another College, for his examination in French. At the Preliminary Scientific Examination for the Degree of M.B. :—Mr. Alexander Bruce obtained the Exhibition of £40 for two years, for his Examination in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy. At the Matriculation Examination in January 1861 :—Mr. Frederick Barham Nunneley, a pupil of the Junior School, obtained the second place for his Examination in Chemistry.

Former Students, who, since the last Report, have distinguished themselves at Examinations beyond the University are :—

Mr. Horatio Nelson Grimley, before referred to as Andrews Scholar, obtained a Gisborne Scholarship in Classics and Mathematics, value £40 a year, at St Peter's College, Cambridge; Mr. Henry Charles Watson obtained, in competition with numerous Students from the Public Schools and Colleges of the Kingdom, one of the newly instituted "Minor Scholarships," of £50 a year, at Trinity College, Cambridge. At the Examinations of the Inns of Court, previous to calling to the Bar, Mr. Herbert H. Cozens-Hardy obtained, in Michaelmas Term 1861, the first Certificate of Honour, and in Hilary Term 1862, the Studentship of £50 for three years; Mr. Arthur Charles obtained the second Certificate of Honour in Michaelmas Term 1861.

INDIAN ARMY CADETSHIP.

In the Report to the General Meeting in 1860, notice was taken of the offer by Mr. Martin Tucker Smith of a direct nomination for a Cadetship in the Army of Madras, to be conferred on any young man whom the Council should select. Subsequently Mr. Smith placed at the disposal of the Council also a nomination for a Cadetship in the Bengal Cavalry. Both appointments were to be made before November 1861. Information of these offers was widely circulated among the Students of the College of that year and the two preceding years. Five applications were received by the Council, who, for guidance in their choice, availed themselves of an opportunity offered them by Sir Edward Ryan to have the merits of the Candidates tested by their presenting themselves at an Examination about to be held by the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Civil Service. Mr. Charles Bell Horsbrugh and Mr. Joseph John Fletcher were placed respectively the first and second of the Students from the College who passed that Examination, and the Council were informed that they acquitted themselves very creditably. These two gentlemen were accordingly recommended to Mr. Smith, and received from him nominations. They afterwards passed the Regulation Examination at Addiscombe, and obtained Commissions. Mr. Horsbrugh, having been highest at the Examination by the Civil Service Commission, was allowed his choice of the two appointments, and made his election for that of the Bengal Cavalry.

Mr. Smith has further favoured the College by the offer of a third nomination for a Cadetship. The offer was made in the last long vacation by a letter addressed to Mr. Romilly, and by him immediately communicated to the College. The usual means were adopted for giving information of it to the Students. In this, as in the beforementioned cases, it was requisite that the nomination should be made before November last, after which date the power of nominating by the Directors of the East India Company for appointments in the Army ceased. For this nomination no Candidate who could obtain the concurrence of his parents presented himself within the limits of time which the Council, having regard to the risk that the privilege of nomination might be altogether lost, deemed it right to fix for an application.

In the spring of last year Lord John Russell, Her Majesty's Minister of Foreign Affasrs, offered to nominate three gentlemen of the College whom Lord Brougham, as President of the College, should recommend as Candidates to compete before the Civil Service Commissioners for appointments as Student Interpreters in China and Japan. Lord John Russell made similar offers to King's College London, the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Trinity College Dublin, the Queen's University Ireland, and the Scotch Universities. Twenty-seven Candidates from these Universities and Colleges competed. Mr. Ernest Satow, from this College, took the first place at the Examination, and obtained an appointment.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The last Report informed the General Meeting that the Studies of the French Class were conducted by M. Cassal, pending the progress of the measures for filling up the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Professor Merlet. M. Cassal continued to discharge that duty as substitute until the month of May, when he was appointed Professor after a long and careful examination of the qualifications of twenty-five Candidates.

The duties of the Professorship of Italian had been discharged by deputy during two years in consequence of the absence in Italy of Professor Arrivabene. The Council, having endeavoured, without effect, to obtain an assurance of the prospect of the Professor's return, and of his resumption of his duties for the ensuing Session, deemed it incumbent on them to declare the office vacant. This they did accordingly at their Session on the 1st of June. They were unable to decide satisfactorily on the choice of a successor before the close of the Academical year; but at their Session on the 7th of December, the Signor De Tivoli, one of eight Candidates, was appointed to the Professorship, and entered on the duties of his office on the reassembling of the Classes after the Christmas Vacation.

The appointment of Dr. Jenner as Physician Extraordinary to the Queen, noticed in the last Report, rendered necessary his resignation of the Professorship of Pathological Anatomy, after the close of the Summer Course of Lectures which had been announced. He continues to hold the office of Special Professor of Clinical Medicine at the Hospital; but his recent appointment of Physician in Ordinary to Her Majesty, and his constant attendance at Osborne for some weeks, have obliged him to ask permission to have the duties of that Professorship discharged during his absence by deputy. Dr. Hare has temporarily officiated for him. A successor to Dr. Jenner in the Professorship of Pathological Anatomy has not yet been appointed. The usual measures for filling up the vacancy are in progress.

Mr. John Fremlyn Streatfeild has been appointed to the new office mentioned in the last Report as then lately instituted of Assistant Surgeon to the Eye Infirmary.

The Council have to lament the decease of Mr. Eaton Hodgkinson,

Professor of the Mechanica Principles of Engineering, who died on the 18th of June last. Professor Potter, in his Report as Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the close of last Session, noticing the decease of his colleague, gave the following character of his works :—"The determination of the correct data of the strength of materials, and the correct methods of employing these data, with the discovery of the law of defective elasticity of bodies generally, and other important investigations in mechanical engineering, we owe to his zeal and disinterested labours. Many of his later investigations were conducted within the College grounds, and his gigantic instruments are still upon the premises."

The Council do not intend to take any steps for filling up the vacant Professorship. Instruction on the subjects will be included in the courses of Architecture and Construction, and of Civil Engineering, of Professor Donaldson and Professor Pole.

CLASS OF ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY FOR LADIES.

The institution of an elementary Course of Lectures on Animal Physiology, mentioned in the last year's Report, was followed by that of a Course on the same subject addressed to ladies exclusively. This Course was instituted in compliance with an application from the Honourable Mrs. William Cowper, on behalf of the Ladies' Sanitary Association, and with the wishes of Schoolmistresses connected with the Social Science Association of Schoolmasters to have a Course delivered to them similar to that which the College had provided for Schoolmasters. The Course consisted of 13 Lectures given by Mr. Marshall, one each week, on Saturdays at 3 o'clock. The payment for admission was One Guinea, with a reduction to Half-a-Guinea in favour of ladies engaged in Education, District Visiting, and the like pursuits. Of the latter class there were 97 attendants; the total number entered to the Course was 113.

BEQUESTS AND DONATIONS.

Mr. Hebb's Legacy.

The Council have lately received notice of a Bequest by Mr. Henry Christopher Hebb, of Worcester, of Five thousand Dollars, due on Bonds of the State of Ohio in North America, as part of Ohio Canal Stock (6 per cent.), with a direction to the Council to apply the interest in equal parts towards the support of University College Hospital, and towards the general purposes of Education in the College; and with power to dispose of the fund, and invest the produce in 3 per cent. Consols. Mr. Hebb died on the 25th of October last, at the age of 90. His Will, dated 25th of March, 1852, was proved in the Worcester District Registry on the 17th of January, 1862, by his Executors, Edward Evans, Esq., of the City of Worcester, and Sir Charles Hastings, M.D., of the same city. Mr. Hebb was an original Proprietor of a share in the College, which he ceded in 1844 to the Council, to be appropriated to the purpose contemplated by the Fellows' clauses of the Bye-Laws, or any other that the Council might please. His name has been on several occasions reported to the General Meeting in connexion with gifts to the College of collections of books, principally relating to the Life or History of Napoleon the First, whose brother Prince Lucien Buonaparte, when resident at Thorngrove, near Worcester, a prisoner of war on parole, he occasionally attended professionally as Consulting Surgeon. In 1813 he published a translation, dedicated to his friend Sir Benjamin Fonseca Outram, M.D., of 'Corvisart's Treatise on the Heart.'

Mr. Frankum's Bequest.

Mr. Richard Frankum, of Burlington Gardens, by his Will dated 10th May, 1861, besides a Legacy of £50 duty free for the Hospital, bequeathed to the College a collection of pictures at his house in London, subject, however, to certain conditions under which the Council did not think it desirable to accept the Bequest.

The Council have been much gratified by the gift to the College by Mrs. Roscoe, the Widow of a former Student and Member of the College, Mr. William Caldwell Roscoe*, lately deceased at the age of 36, of a collection of works, principally of Icelandic Literature.

In a letter addressed to Professor Key, Mr. John Langton Sanford†, a friend of the deceased, and himself a former Student of the College, related the circumstances of this donation as follows:—

"That by a memorandum found among Mr. Roscoe's papers, he expressed a wish that a collection, believed to be unique in this country, of Icelandic Literature should be kept together in some Public Institution such as University College, London; that the Collection, in number seventy-two bound volumes and thirty-five books in boards and pamphlets, was formed by an Icelandic Scholar of some repute in his day, Mr. John Daulby (a nephew of the historian Roscoe), who made it in Iceland, where he resided for some years; that it contained presentation-copies from Thorkelin and other Norse scholars; that it passed from Mr. Daulby to his cousin, the late William Stanley Roscoe, the eldest son of the historian, and was left by him to his eldest son, Mr. William Caldwell Roscoe."

The Council returned their thanks to Mrs. Roscoe for her very interesting gift, and resolved that the Collection should be kept together, and be designated the

"DAULBY-ROSCOE ICELANDIC COLLECTION."

In the month of July Mr. Biddle Airy, the Astronomer-Royal, after inquiry as to the publications of the Royal Observatory which were possessed by the College, in order to complete as far as possible, for the College Library, a set of Greenwich Observations and other publications of the Observatory, presented, by the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, twenty-seven volumes of the valuable works published at the Observatory. The Royal Asiatic Society also, at the instance of Professor Goldstücker, presented for the use of the Library thirty volumes of their Transactions.

Lady Carswell has presented to the College a very valuable Portfolio of Pathological Drawings by her late husband Sir Robert Carswell, M.D., the first Professor of Pathological Anatomy in the College. The gift of a collection of MSS. of Sir Robert Carswell, and a Bust in plaster by Dutrieux of Brussels, accompanied the donation.

A copy of the publication by Beriah Botfield, Esq., M.P., entitled 'Prefaces to the First Editions of the Greek and Roman Classics and of the Sacred Scriptures,' the gift of the editor; and 'The Abstract of Levelling in England and Wales,' with plates, by Sir Henry James, R.E., Director of the Ordnance Survey, presented by the Secretary of State for War, are among the donations made for the Library during the year.

THE DEATH OF THE EARL FORTESCUE.

At their first Meeting after the long vacation the Council had to discharge the mournful duty of recording their sorrow for the loss of their late much-honoured Colleague, the Earl Fortescue, K.G., who for seventeen years had been a Member of the Council, for twelve years Vice-President of the College, and for eleven years President of the Senate. His Lordship was one of the original Founders of the College, and never ceased to take a lively interest in its prosperity; of this the part he took in founding the Joseph Hume Scholarships in Political Economy and Jurisprudence affords a notable instance.

For successor to Earl Fortescue in the Office of Vice-President of the College the Council have unanimously agreed in nominating Lord Belper, who for thirty-one years has been one of their body, who, when in town, has been a constant attendant at their Meetings and at those of Committees on which he has been requested to serve.

FELLOWS OF THE COLLEGE.

In exercise of the power vested in them by Chap. 1. Cl. 13 to 17 of the Bye-Laws, the Council in the Course of the last Session conferred Shares in the College, with the Title of Fellow, on Students who had taken Degrees with Honours in the University of London, viz., Fellows in Arts:—Henry Mason Bompas, A.M.; the Rev. William Hurndall, A.M.; Edward Aldam Leatham, Esq., M.P.; and Joseph Maurice Solomon, A.M. Fellows in Law:—John Philip Green, LL.B., and Henry Self Page Winterbotham. Fellows in Medicine:—Frederick James Browne, M.D.; Joseph Lister, M.B.; and Henry Thompson, M.B.

FINANCES.

The College Portion of Fees of Students and Pupils for the year 1861 was £3092 5*s.* 8*d.* (vide p. 5), exceeding the former year's receipt by £104 15*s.* 4*d.*; the Dividends and Interest on invested funds not specially appropriated were £1208 19*s.* 11*d.*; the receipts from transfer of shares and Students' lockers were £28 19*s.*; making from ordinary sources an Income of £4330 4*s.* 7*d.* The Expenditure, ordinary and extraordinary, exclusive of the payments provided for by Endowments, was £4782 9*s.* 6*d.* To that sum should be added £122 17*s.*, balance due at the end of the Session of a year's Printer's bill of £222 17*s.*; while from it there should be deducted £83 2*s.* 6*d.*, for non-recurring payments made on account of former Sessions. The result will be an Expenditure for the year of £4822 4*s.*, being an excess over ordinary revenue of £491 19*s.* 5*d.* Of the extraordinary expenditure contributing to this excess, £331 6*s.* 2*d.* was on account of Building, Furniture, and supply of Microscopes for the use of the Class of Practical Physiology, all chargeable to Capital; while the account, £454 11*s.* 7*d.*, for House Repairs partly consequent on the recent completion of the interior of the Building was £100 beyond the average of ordinary years. With these allowances, the balance against receipt for the year 1861 would be reduced to about £60. It may be further observed that, in these statements, additions to the College Property in the purchase of Books and apparatus of Natural Philosophy, which cost £87, are treated as ordinary expenses.

In connexion with the subject of Finances, the Council take this occasion to refer to the amendment which they propose for the adoption of the General Meeting in Chap. 5. Cl. 1. of the Bye-Laws.

This amendment was recommended to them by the Auditors, with a view to their having the same guarantee for the accuracy of the return of receipts during the month of September for succeeding Sessions which the Ticket Book of the Treasurer affords them respecting the receipts on account of the previous year. The simplest mode of effecting this object appeared to be by making the termination of the Financial year correspond more nearly with that of the Academical Session which expires in August. No objection to the recommendation of the Auditors presents itself; and as the propriety of the suggested correspondence of dates seems obvious, the Council have not hesitated to propose the alteration, and they hope it will meet with the approbation of the General Meeting.

Items in the Statements of Receipt and Expenditure would apprise the Members of the College of some damage sustained from fire in the Birkbeck Laboratory, and of the reinstatement of the property at a cost to the Union Insurance Office of £165 8*s.* 7*d.* This accident occurred on the evening of the 22nd of March, 1861. The fire was discovered before it had made much progress, and was confined to the destruction of a portion of the fittings and apparatus, with some slight incidental injury to the Building. The cause of the fire was not ascertained.

THE HOSPITAL.

In the last year there was no Public Dinner in aid of the Funds of the Hospital, and the receipts, as is usual under such circumstances, fell considerably short of the expenditure, notwithstanding several generous contributions in response to a private appeal. The Bishop of London kindly preached a sermon in aid of the Charity, at St. Matthew's Church, Oakley Square, on the 21st of July. His Lordship has accepted, in very courteous terms, the Council's invitation to him to become a Vice-President of the Hospital.

By the railway accident which occurred in Kentish Town in September last, more especially as it happened in the time of Vacation of the Medical Department of the College, the resources of the Hospital and the energy of its Surgeons and Assistant Officers then in town, as well as the activity and devotion of the Matron and nurses, were somewhat severely tried, but in no respect were found wanting: the cases received all the relief of which they were susceptible. The Council have been informed that the benefits derived from the arrangements made with the Institution of the All-Saints Home, for nursing in wards 5 and 6, and from the prompt and efficient extra assistance which that Institution furnished in this emergency, were very manifest.

The Hospital Committee on the same occasion experienced from several religious congregations, as well as from individuals and patients, gratifying proofs of sympathy, interest, and thankfulness. Voluntary collections in aid of the Funds were made at places of worship as follows:—at Park Street Chapel, Camden Town, after a Sermon by the Rev. James Harrison, £57 18*s.* 4*d.*; at St. Paul's Chapel, Kentish Town, after a Sermon by the Rev. E. White, £10 10*s.*; at the Free Christian Church, Kentish Town, after a Sermon by the Rev. W. Foster, £18 15*s.*; at the Congregational Church, Gower Street, after a Sermon by the Rev. T. J. Lynch, £7 7*s.*; and at Bloomsbury Chapel, after a Sermon by the Rev. William Brock, D.D., £40 14*s.* This last-mentioned collection raised the amount produced by appeals to his congregation by the same gentleman on several occasions to £200. Dr. Brock has very graciously accepted the Council's invitation to become a Vice-President of the Hospital.

Among the Donors to the Hospital during the year are the following:—Mrs. Joseph Locke, £200; Sir Francis Goldsmid, Bart., M.P., £100;

Sir George Philips, Bart., £50; Dr. Skey, £50; Thomas Chandless, Esq., £31 10*s.*; D. L. Lewis, Esq., £31 10*s.*; F. D. Goldsmid, Esq., £31 10*s*; the Misses Eliza and Annie Ward, sufferers by the railway accident, £5 5*s*. Donations for Investment were received:—from Mrs. Flanagan, £50, making, with former gifts for the like purpose, £250; and from John Hibbert, Esq., £100, being the seventh of a like amount for investment, besides £100 for general purposes. The collection after the Sermon preached by the Bishop of London amounted to £63 10*s*.

The following sums have been received on account of Legacies:—£100 free of duty, bequeathed by the late Aron Asher Goldsmid, Esq.; and £50 free of duty, the bequest of the late Richard Frankum, Esq. Notice of the following Legacies has been received during the year:—of £500 by the late Charles Chichely Hyde, Esq., payable after the decease of an annuitant; £500 by Mr. Robert Forest, payable after the decease of his widow; £300 by the late John Watson, Esq., payable within a period of 3 years after his decease, or sooner at the discretion of the executors, with interest until payment—Mr. Watson was for many years a zealous and active member of the Hospital Committee, and his contributions to its funds, besides an annual subscription of five guineas, amounted to £192 10*s*.;—the Moiety of 5000 Dollars Ohio State Canal 6 per cent. Stock, by Christopher Henry Hebb, Esq., referred to in a former part of this Report.

Mr. Sydney Ringer has been appointed Resident Medical Officer at the Hospital on the retirement of Dr. Edwyn Andrew, who last autumn resigned that office in order to enter into private practice*.

A Public Dinner in aid of the funds of the Charity this year is indispensable. His Grace the Duke of Argyll has kindly acceded to a request from the Council that he would preside; and his Grace has appointed Tuesday, the 8th of April, for the festival.

The Council discharge a duty in bespeaking for the Hospital on this occasion the exertions of all friends of the College. They would beg attention to the constant efforts of the Hospital Committee to extend the benefits of the Institution, and to introduce improvements in its various departments, undeterred by the apprehension that their proceedings might entail an increase of expense.

The Council trust that, on this as well as other grounds, the claims of the Charity will be acknowledged, and that it will meet with the support which it so greatly needs.

CHARLES C. ATKINSON,
Secretary.

* At the first Meeting of the Council after the General Meeting, Dr. Hillier was appointed Medical Officer to the Hospital for the department of Diseases of the Skin. The charge of the department which Dr. Jenner relinquished on being appointed Physician to the Queen was kindly undertaken during the seven intervening months by Mr. William Frederick Teevan.
